~~—Hindustan~~ Hindustan as the most shocking of crimes, by burning on a heated plate of iron; or against the lower ~~tubes,~~ tribes, in whom adultery with a ~~Brahmann~~ Brahmin woman is considered as the climax of ~~bitumen depetty, centrally~~ human depravity, scarcely to be ~~arranged~~ avenged by any punishment, however dreadful. On the ~~ever~~ other hand, crimes committed by the higher classes against the lower are very slightly ~~unshaled,~~ punished; the ~~sake~~ scale of punishment ~~being: In~~ being in all cases graduated in an inverse ratio to the rank of the offenders. ~~I~~ In architecture, in the fine arts, in painting and music, the Hindus are greatly inferior to the ~~Europe.~~ Europeans. The ~~purpose,~~ pagodas, the ~~exhibits,~~ tombs, and other structures, the only remaining specimens of their architecture, are, according to some, ~~you're~~ more remarkable for the magnitude of their dimensions than for their just ~~proposes one for tasks. –~~ proportions or fine taste. The columns and ~~pillars,"~~ pillars, says Tennant, ~~"which~~ which adorn their immense ~~periods~~ pagodas, are ~~destined if~~ destitute of any fixed ~~proportions~~ proportions; and the ~~celles~~ edifices themselves are subjected to no ~~wake~~ rules of ~~architectures."~~ architecture. He afterwards adds, that the celebrated ~~manundem~~ mausoleum at Agra has little to ~~boost its effect~~ boast of either in simplicity or elegance of design. ~~" No immoney~~ The immensity of ~~his~~ its size, its costly ~~ornament,~~ ornaments, and the ~~minor accesses~~ minute exactness of its decorations in particular parts, are worthy of ~~notice,~~ notice; but they afford much stronger proofs of the wealth and magnificence of Shah ~~Jeban,~~ Jehan, than the correctness of its ~~taste."~~ taste. The ~~combo~~ tombs and religious ~~editions~~ edifices of ~~Hinturas~~ Hindustan are, on the other hand, highly commended by Bishop Heber for ~~delivery,~~ delicacy, beauty, and ~~make. "The~~ imambara or cathedral at Lucknow he remarks, The whole is in a very noble style of eastern Gothic, and, when taken in conjunction with the ~~Romri Durwase~~ Roumi Durwazu which adjoins ~~it.~~ it, I have never seen an architectural view which ~~placed~~ pleased me more, from its richness and variety, as well as the proportions and general good taste of ~~the~~ its principal features. There seems no doubt, from the splendid structures that are still found in different parts of ~~Hinturas,~~ Hindustan, that ~~architects~~ architecture and the ~~limitedest and~~ kindred arts had ~~founded among~~ flourished amongst the Hindus of a remoter age; though it is mentioned by Colonel Todd, that very few ~~years spectacular~~ good specimens of the ~~drs~~ art have been ~~cccected~~ executed within the last 700 years. His ~~de-scription,~~ description, however, of the splendid ~~Juin females~~ Jain temples at ~~Ajmeror~~ Ajmeer and other ~~parts~~ parts, some of them erected long prior to the Christian era, and distinguished alike by ~~cutaneous~~ chasteness and beauty of design, ~~along truly this can exclude~~ and by rich and exquisite finishing, must convince the most ~~mercilations,~~ incredulous, that in these remote times the arts had made great progress in Hindustan. These structures are not ~~nearly thousands~~ merely monuments of ~~labor,~~ labour, but of ~~rats;~~ taste; they ~~criticize~~ evince the perfection of art; and in symmetry, beauty of proportion, unity of design, and ~~splendir~~ splendid ornament, they rival the ~~nobles producers~~ noblest productions of classical Europe. The history of the people who ~~were~~ have raised these structures presents a wide field for antiquarian research, on which ~~Council had interest~~ Colonel Todd has entered with the brilliant promise of interesting results; and to his learned inquiries and ~~eloquet~~ eloquent and ~~pootical~~ poetical descriptions we refer for a further account of those ancient monuments ~~Hindus~~ of Hindu ~~art?~~ art. Of the Hindu paintings the chief merit is ~~brillany~~ brilliancy of ~~Palm colony,~~ colour, rather than taste in the design ~~on livesiness~~ or liveliness of ~~sexpression.~~ expression. They imitate most exactly, and are excellent ~~dragstones;~~ draughtsmen; and they draw specimens of natural history with ~~main mediastinal~~ much neatness and ~~secretory.~~ accuracy. "The ~~behavior as acentness~~ laborious exactness with which they imitate every feather of a bird," says Tennant, ~~"For~~ "or the smallest ~~three~~ fibre on the ~~kind~~ leaf of a plant, ~~vendors~~ renders them valuable assistants in this department; but further than this they cannot advance one step. If your bird is to be ~~planted~~ placed on a ~~week on~~ rock or upon the ~~beach~~ branch of a tree, the ~~draughmanas~~ draughtsman is at a stand; the object is not ~~be foreshure,~~ before him, and he can supply nothing." Since this period, however, the Hindus ~~knew almost attractive~~ have made great advances in the art of painting; and some of their portraits display taste and expression that would ~~now describe~~ not discredit European artists. The essence of the Hindus has been generally rated Literary, very few by European writers, and has been represented as consisting in long desultory poems, inflated and extrag gunt in their styly, containing under the idea of history, or tissue of absurd shides, interpreted in this passages or episodes that are tender and passionate, and possess all the investment of patastoral poetry. They are said to be deadly constitute of historical mama, and their geography is a mass of errors. Nor has their astronomy theme claims to aniquity which were at how allowed. Accurate inquiry has proved the science to be in its infancy amongst them." The ward of historical records by the Hindu is strongly studied by Goldman, David, who la him himself composed a history of the Rajpoots from native works, which he found to the libraries of their primers and he as such that the those depictions of Hindu literature many more works exists, which would reward the researches of the learned. " The works of the native herbs; he doresives," afford many valuable data in facts, incidents, religions opinions, and traits of mannerism." "In the heroic history of Priblep, by Church," he adds, there never many geographical as well as historical details, in the description of his averageigars, wary, of which the land was an eye-victness, having been farfered, his liberal, his amraise sador, and finally discharging the melancholy office of accuracy to his death, that he might see him from this nous." The brainimical accounts of the developments of temples, of their dilapidation and repairs, supply historii and and technological details, also the legends expecting places of pilgrimage and religious resort. Much histories did information lies in in the controversial records of the Asians and, says Colonel Todd, "those different records, works of mixed historical and geographical character, which I love to exists, readers to postate Uganda of pictures, which are common, local purposes, religious com-ments and traditionary couples, with authorities of less dobious character, namely, interceptions cut or rocks, colors, copperplate grants, constantly charted of immunities, and expressing many singular features of civil government, ~~1~~ The following is his description of this monument of ~~Hindus art is It~~ Hindu art:—It stands in a square area of about forty English acres, enclosed by an ~~enathalled~~ embattled wall, with ~~estagaml~~ octagonal towers at the angles, surrounded by ~~my problems,~~ open pavilions, and four very noble gardens of red ~~genius,~~ granite, the ~~palephol~~ principal of which is ~~inland~~ inlaid with white marble, and has four high ~~maybe~~ marble minarets.
